

CALL FOR MEASURES AND MEASURE CONCEPTS:
Behavioral Health 2016-2017

NQF is seeking new measures and concepts related to behavioral health that can be used for accountability and public reporting for all populations and in all settings of care. This project will address topic areas including but not limited to: depression, bipolar disorder, screening of adolescents for behavioral health conditions, and attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD).

NQF is particularly interested in measures:

- measures of intermediate clinical outcomes or longer term health outcomes, including complications;
- composite performance measures;
- measures applicable to more than one setting;
- measures that capture broad populations, including children and adolescents where applicable;
- measures that are harmonized with similar measures; and,
- measures that are sensitive to vulnerable populations, including racial/ethnic minorities; and Medicaid populations.

This project launched September 28, 2016. The final submission deadline is December 2, 2016, 6:00pm ET.

BACKGROUND

Behavioral health describes an individual's mind-body connection and can set the tone for personal and professional relationships, attitude, and overall state of mind. This broad field encompasses a range of treatments and services for individuals who are at risk or suffering from mental, behavioral, and/or addictive disorders. These include substance abuse, post-traumatic stress disorder, and anxiety or depression.

According to the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's (SAMHSA) 2014 National Survey on Drug Use and Health, an estimated 43.6 million American adults have experienced some form of mental illness and 20.2 million adults have had a substance use disorder. Of these, 7.9 million people had both a mental disorder and substance use disorder. Behavioral health disorders are a leading cause of disability, and treatment continues to be a source of rising healthcare costs in the United States. Currently, behavioral health issues cost the healthcare system and employers billions of dollars. Better measures of the quality of behavioral healthcare services can help ensure that people receive timely, coordinated, and effective care that ultimately leads to better outcomes and improved overall health.

Through this project, funded by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, NQF will endorse measures that can help achieve better behavioral health outcomes and improve behavioral health for all Americans.

MEASURE CONCEPTS

In addition to soliciting fully-developed measures for consensus-based endorsement review, NQF is also soliciting measure concepts through NQF's Measure Inventory Pipeline. This pipeline will serve as an important source of information for HHS and other stakeholders on new measure development in the broader healthcare community. It will also enable NQF to track current and planned measure development to ensure early collaboration among developers to drive harmonization and alignment of measures.

In an effort to capture comprehensive information on measures in development, NQF seeks input on several variables including:

- measure description;
- numerator statement;
- denominator statement (target population);
- planned use,
- stage of development; and
- other relevant information.

Please note that the information entered through NQF's Measure Inventory Pipeline will not be evaluated by the Standing Committee against the NQF Criteria. Submitted information will be catalogued by NQF and used to help inform the Standing Committee's measure gaps discussion. NQF will also share the information with HHS to inform CMS' Measure Inventory Pipeline, which is a reference for several stakeholders.

Conditions for Consideration:

- The measure owner/steward verifies there is an identified responsible entity and process to maintain and update the measure on a schedule that is commensurate with the rate of clinical innovation, but at least every three years.¹
- The intended use of the measure includes both public accountability and quality improvement.
- The measure is fully specified and tested for reliability and validity. Measures that are not tested will not be accepted in this project.
- The measure developer/steward attests that harmonization with related measures and issues with competing measures have been considered and addressed, as appropriate.
- The requested measure submission information is complete and responsive to the questions so that all the information needed to evaluate all criteria is provided.

Submission Guidance:

- Developer Guidebook:
 - A Developer Guidebook as has been created to assist developers in the measure submission and evaluation process. The Guidebook contains all the information developers need to know when submitting a measure to NQF.
- ICD-10-CM/PCS:

- Beginning April 1, 2013 measures specified with administrative claims data must submit a set of ICD-9-CM and ICD-10-CM/PCS codes. Click here for further information on this requirement.
- eMeasures:
 - Must be specified in the Health Quality Measures Format (HQMF) and use the Quality Data Model (QDM) and value sets vetted through the National Library of Medicine's Value Set Authority Center (VSAC);
 - Review the current measure evaluation criteria and guidance.
- Composite measures:
 - Please notify project staff if you plan to submit a composite measure

Technical Assistance

NQF project staff will provide technical assistance to measure developers at any time during the measure submission process up to the submission deadline. Contact the project team with any questions about the criteria, how to answer the questions in the form, any technical issues with the online submission process... or anything else!
