NQF is particularly interested in measures (composite and outcome):

- sensitive to the needs of vulnerable populations, including racial/ethnic minorities and Medicaid populations.

STEERING COMMITTEE

A multi-stakeholder Steering Committee will evaluate newly submitted and maintenance measures against the four NQF Measure Evaluation Criteria (importance, scientific acceptability, usability and use, and feasibility) and make recommendations for which measures should be endorsed as consensus standards. The Steering Committee, comprising of 20-22 individuals, will represent the variety of stakeholders, including consumers, purchasers, providers, professionals, plans, suppliers, community and public health, and healthcare quality experts.

Nominees should possess relevant knowledge and/or proficiency in process and outcome quality measurement and/or clinical expertise in the evaluation, treatment, diagnostic studies, imaging, interventions, or procedures associated with the topics listed above, across multiple care settings. NQF is seeking nominees with a variety of clinical experience, including physicians, nurses, therapists, case managers, unit managers, and executives. We also are seeking expertise in disparities and care of vulnerable populations.

The Steering Committee's primary work is to evaluate the submitted measures against NQF's standard measure evaluation criteria and make recommendations for endorsement. This Committee will evaluate measures and will work with NQF staff to develop specific project plans, provide advice about the subject, ensure input is obtained from relevant stakeholders, review draft products, and recommend specific measures and research priorities to NQF Members for consideration under the Consensus Development Process.

Steering Committee members should not have a vested interest in the candidate measures. This includes employees or contractors of measure owners/developers, members of workgroups that developed the measures, and members of committees that approve measures or direct or set policy for measure development. Please see the NQF website for additional information about the conflict of interest policy. All potential Steering Committee members must disclose any current and past activities during the nomination process.
