Jessica Couillard (Oidtman), ScM  Policy Analyst	Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response	While there are numerous hospital-based clinicians and one fire department representative, there are no emergency medical services clinicians (paramedics or EMTs, not EMS Medical Directors) or representatives from their associations. I would suggest including someone from the National Association of EMTs or NASEMSO. I would also recommend two members of the National Stop the Bleed project. Alex Eastman from Parkland Trauma is both a Trauma Physician and a sworn law enforcement officer in Dallas SWAT. Matt Levy is an Emergency Physician and EMS Medical Director from Howard County, MD. Both would provide unique perspectives for a Mass Shooting project.	August 29, 2018	Thank you for your comment. NQF was able to identify candidates to fill these gaps.	September 19, 2018
Helen C. Miller MD, FAAP, CPE  Team Commander, NDMS DMAT OREGON-2	US DHHS/ASPR/OS/ OEM/National Disaster Medical System	Dr. David Marcozzi brings operational and systems expertise and experience that will certainly be an asset to the Healthcare System Readiness Committee.  I have known Dr. Marcozzi for many years through his work with US Department of Health and Human Services.  I recommend him highly and without reservation.	August 28, 2018	Thank you for your recommendation. He has been confirmed for the Committee.	September 19, 2018
