

National Voluntary Consensus Standards for Patient Outcomes Diabetes/Metabolic Technical Advisory Panel

Dr. Sheldon Greenfield, MD (Chair)

Executive Director, Center for Health Policy Research
University of California, Irvine

Sheldon Greenfield, MD, an internationally recognized leader in quality of care and health services research, is the Donald Bren Professor of Medicine and Executive Director of the Health Policy Research Institute, University of California at Irvine. Dr. Greenfield's research has focused on primary care outcomes, quality of chronic disease care, patient participation in care, and assessment of comorbidity. He was the 1995 recipient of the PEW Health Professions Commission Award for lifetime achievement in Primary Care Research. Dr. Greenfield was elected to the Institute of Medicine in 1996. He chaired the IOM Committee on Guidance for Designing a National Health Care Disparities Report, and was Chair of the IOM Cancer Survivorship Report. He was the Chair of the National Diabetes Quality Improvement Alliance. He was Co-Chair of the IOM Committee on Initial National Priorities for Comparative Effectiveness Research. His current research focus is on performance assessment at the individual physician level, heterogeneity of treatment effects, and quality of chronic disease care for ethnic and racial minorities. He received medical degree from the University Of Cincinnati College Of Medicine.

Dr. R. Keith Campbell, RPh, FASHP, CDE

Distinguished Professor in Diabetes Care and Pharmacotherapy
Washington State University College of Pharmacy

R. Keith Campbell is Distinguished Professor in Diabetes Care/Pharmacotherapy. He has served on numerous committees for the American Diabetes Association, the American Association of Diabetes Educators, and the NIH. He has a personal interest in diabetes having had Type 1 diabetes for 60+ years and used an insulin pump for 30+ years. Keith has served on the Board of Directors of the ADA and the AADE. He has authored over 650 publications primarily on diabetes. He was named the "Outstanding Health Care Educator in the Field of Diabetes in the United States" in 1989 by the ADA. Keith is a Certified Diabetes Educator and served as a consultant to the FDA's and USP's Endocrine panels. He is a popular speaker both nationally and internationally and has made over 1500 presentations to medical, pharmacy, nursing and patient groups.

Dr. Stephen Fadem, MD, FACP, FASN

Member of the Board of Directors- Renal Physicians Association

Dr. Fadem, a Houston based practicing nephrologist since 1978, is an Oklahoma Medical School graduate. He completed residency at UTHSC, Houston and fellowship, UTHSC, San Antonio. He is a Clinical Professor of Medicine, Baylor, diplomate, ABQAURP, past Chairman, Medical Advisory Board, NKF, Southeast Texas, currently on AAKP Medical Advisory Board and Vice President Board of Directors. At RPA: Chairman, Health Care Payment Committee and member, Board of Directors. He served on CMS' CPM Committee, and several TAPS; is active in dialysis QI and patient safety initiatives. Special interests: CKD education, health policy, patient safety, vascular calcification, medical web software design.

Dr. Karen Fitzner, PhD

Chief Science and Practice Officer-
American Association of Diabetes Educators

Karen Fitzner, PhD, Chief Science and Practice Officer, American Association of Diabetes Educators, guides research, performance measurement and builds evidence-based practice programs. At DMAA and BCBSA she worked with HEDIS and other measures, the Cost Campaign and Health Services Research projects. She earned her PhD, Community Medicine, University of Hong Kong, MSc at the London School of Economics, and BS at Illinois State University. She has authored numerous publications in peer reviewed journals, serves on editorial boards.

Dr. Carol Motes Headley, DNSc, MSN, RN, CNN

Advanced Practice Nurse
Veterans Affairs Medical Center, Memphis

Doctor Carol M. Headley has over 20 years of nephrology experience. Mrs. Headley has remained professionally active during her entire career. Most recently she edited a book entitled "ANNA: Your Guide to Professional Development" which was published in December 2007. She has made many other contributions to the nephrology literature. She also served on the National Quality Form Task Force for end-stage renal disease measures. Her most recent contribution includes the coordination of an issue for the Nephrology Nursing Journal dedicated to diabetes. She is also the newest member on the Nephrology Nursing Journal Board.

Dr. Richard Hellman, MD, FACP, FACE

Clinical Professor of Medicine
University of Missouri Kansas City School of Medicine

Dr. Hellman was appointed to the Performance Measures Advisory Committee in 1998, the PCPI in 2000, and their Executive Committee since 2004. He is on PCPI's Finance, Planning Advisory, and Strategic Directions committees. He has been co-chair of two depression workgroups and Implementation Workgroup. He has been a member of many Consortium workgroups. He is Past President of the American Association of Clinical Endocrinologists, and Clinical Professor of Medicine at University of Missouri/Kansas City School of Medicine. He graduated from Chicago Medical School, with post-graduate training at University of Kansas Medical Center. He is board certified in Internal Medicine and Endocrinology/Metabolism. He is a member of Alpha Omega Alpha, and has received a Distinguished Alumnus Award. He was Associate Professor of Medicine and Director of Endocrine Programs at UMKC. He participated on the AMA Expert Panel on Medication Reconciliation, and has been a member of two NQF Technical Expert Panels.

Dr. Allen R. Nissenson, MD, FACP, FASN

Professor of Medicine, Associate Dean-
David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA

Currently Chief Medical Officer of DaVita and Emeritus Professor of Medicine at the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA, Dr. Nissenson is a former President of the Renal Physicians Association and in 1994-95 served as an RWJF Health Policy Fellow of the IOM in the late Senator Paul Wellstone's office. He has done extensive work with quality outcomes for CKD, including overseeing a large CMS demonstration project and a care coordination program for CKD including diabetic patients and those with CHF. He recently completed work as co-PI of an NIH Center for Health Disparities grant focused on CKD.

Dr. Erica Swegler, MD

Partner- North Hills Family Medicine

Dr. Swegler is a Family Physician in a small single specialty group in Keller, Texas. Her interests are preventative medicine, to include prevention of the complications of chronic diseases through achieving evidence based, quality care measures. Additionally, she is interested in cost effective medicine. Dr. Swegler has a clinical interest in diabetes and care for her diabetic patients in her clinical practice. In 2002, she lectured on behalf of the Texas Academy of Family Physicians and the Texas Medical Foundation on a Systems Approach to Diabetic Care. Dr. Swegler was recognized in Diabetic Care by NCQA in 2005 and 2008,