Dr. Randall Krakauer graduated from Albany Medical College in 1972 and is Board Certified in Internal Medicine and Rheumatology. He received training in Internal Medicine at the University of Minnesota

Hospitals and in Rheumatology at the National Institutes of Health and Massachusetts General Hospital/Harvard Medical School, and received an MBA from Rutgers. He is a fellow of the American College of Physicians and the American College of Rheumatology and Professor of Medicine at Seton Hall University Graduate School of Medicine. He is past chairman of the American College of Managed Care Medicine. Dr. Krakauer has more than 30 years of experience in medicine and medical management, has held senior medical management positions in several major organizations. He is author of many publications on Medical Management, Advanced Care Management and Collaborative Medical Management. He is responsible for medical management planning and implementation nationally for Aetna Medicare members, including program development and administration.

AMERICAN NURSES ASSOCIATION

Marla J. Weston, PhD, RN

Marla J. Weston, PhD, RN, a nurse leader with nearly 30 years of diverse management experience in health care operations, is the chief executive officer (CEO) of the American Nurses Association (ANA), and the American Nurses Foundation (ANF). Dr. Weston currently is involved in multiple performance measurement and public reporting initiatives. She is ANA's representative to the National Priorities Partnership, Hospital Quality Alliance, and Nursing Alliance for Quality Care. Prior to assuming the leadership post at ANA, Dr. Weston developed and managed U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs initiatives to improve the quality of health care for veterans in all Veterans Healthcare Administration facilities nationwide, with a focus on improving the VA nursing workforce. She implemented strategies to improve the work environment, created policies and programs to attract and retain a highly qualified nursing workforce, and promoted nursing as a career choice. Dr. Weston served for four years as the Arizona Nurses Association's executive director, where she led efforts to advocate for nurses on the state and national level and promoted the Magnet Recognition concept, an indication of excellent quality of nursing in hospitals. As a principal in her own consulting firm, Dr. Weston has advised hospitals and educational institutions on quality improvements, as well as resource management, recruitment and retention, and regulatory compliance. Earlier in her career, Dr. Weston worked in a variety of hospital nursing roles for 18 years, including direct patient care in intensive care and medical-surgical units, nurse educator, clinical nurse specialist, director of patient care support and nurse executive. As a hospital administrator, Dr. Weston oversaw structural changes in services that resulted in improved patient satisfaction scores and quality measures. Dr. Weston graduated from Indiana University of Pennsylvania with a bachelor's of science degree in nursing. She graduated from Arizona State University, with a master's of science degree in nursing. She earned her doctoral degree at the University of Arizona. Her dissertation topic, "Antecedents to control over nursing practice," addressed ways to increase the decision-making role of the hospital nurse – in short, nurse influence and power.

CENTER FOR PATIENT PARTNERSHIPS

Rachel Grob, PhD

Rachel Grob, PhD, MA, is currently Director of National Initiatives and Scholar in Residence at the Center for Patient Partnerships (CPP), University of Wisconsin-Madison. Rachel's work at the CPP is focused on enhancing the capacity of patients to influence state and federal health policy, and on understanding and improving responsiveness of the health care system to consumers' experiences. She is also leading an array of research and field-building initiatives. Prior to joining the CPP in 2011, Rachel was Associate Dean of Graduate Studies, Director of the Child Development Institute, and Health Advocacy Program faculty member at Sarah Lawrence College. She is also an investigator in health policy research, Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, 2006-2011. Her publications include articles and book chapters on advocacy and parental/patient perspectives on clinical issues, and her co-edited volume titled Patients as Policy Actors was published in 2011 by Rutgers University Press. She holds degrees from Wesleyan University (B.A.), Sarah Lawrence College (M.A. in Health Advocacy), and City University of New York Graduate Center (Doctorate in sociology).

CONSUMERS UNION

Lisa McGiffert

Lisa McGiffert, directs Consumers Union's Safe Patient Project. Consumers Union is the advocacy arm of Consumer Reports. The campaign works on state and national levels to make information available to consumers about medical harm, focusing on healthcare-acquired infections, medical errors, physician safety and medical device safety. Beginning in 2003, the campaign initiated state laws to publish hospital infection rates and raise public awareness about the problem; today more than half of the states and Medicare require such reporting. The campaign's collaboration with individuals who have personal experiences with medical harm has developed into a national consumer network to make health care safer. McGiffert routinely lends the consumer voice on these issues at conferences, with the media and when serving on national and state-based patient safety advisory committees. From 1991-2003, McGiffert directed CU advocacy efforts on the full array of health issues in Texas. Prior to joining CU, Lisa was a policy analyst for the Texas Senate Committee on Health and Human Services where, for seven years, she was actively involved in the development and implementation of state policies. She has also worked as a juvenile probation/parole officer. McGiffert has a BA in psychology from Midwestern State University, Texas.

MARCH OF DIMES

Cynthia Pellegrini

Cynthia Pellegrini is Senior Vice President for Public Policy and Government Affairs at the March of Dimes. In this capacity, Ms. Pellegrini oversees all March of Dimes advocacy efforts at the federal level and in all 50 States, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. She also guides the organization's research on maternal and child health policy issues. Key March of Dimes policy priorities include access to health care for all women of childbearing age and children; research into prematurity, birth defects, and other aspects of reproductive and child health and development; prevention and health promotion issues, such as tobacco cessation and nutrition; and issues of concern to the operation of not-for-profit organizations. Ms. Pellegrini is a voting member of the CDC's Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices, which determines the annual child and adult immunization schedules. Prior to joining March of Dimes, Ms. Pellegrini served as Associate Director for Federal Affairs at the American Academy of Pediatrics, where she covered a range of issues including genetics, bioethics, child abuse and neglect, environmental health, nutrition, obesity, and injury and violence. In this capacity, Ms. Pellegrini worked with AAP leadership to develop and execute strategies to advance AAP priorities through both Congress and the Administration. Ms. Pellegrini worked on Capitol Hill for over eleven years. From 1996 to 2004, she served as Chief of Staff and health aide to Rep. Louise Slaughter (NY). Her tenure on Capitol Hill also included stints with Reps. Gerald Kleczka (WI) and Jay Inslee (WA). She has published on trends in federal public health and preparedness spending and served on the National Commission on Children and Disasters' Pediatric Medical Care Subcommittee. Ms. Pellegrini has an extensive background in public policy issues as well as politics and administration.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SOCIAL WORKERS

Joan Levy Zlotnik, PhD, ACSW

Dr. Zlotnik has more than 20 years of experience working in leadership positions within national social work organizations. Her pioneering work has focused on forging academic/agency partnerships and on strengthening the bridges between research, practice, policy and education. She currently serves as the director of the Social Work Policy Institute (SWPI), a think tank established in the NASW Foundation. Its mission is to strengthen social work's voice in public policy deliberations. SWPI creates a forum to examine current and future issues in health care and social service delivery by convening together researchers, practitioners, educators and policy makers to develop agendas for action. Dr. Zlotnik served as the director of the Strengthening Aging and Gerontology Education for Social Work (SAGE-SW), the first project supported by the John A. Hartford Foundation as part of its Geriatric Social Work Initiative (GSWI) and has undertaken several projects to better meet psychosocial needs in long term care. Dr. Zlotnik's work in aging, family caregiving and long term care has been recognized through her election as a Fellow of the Gerontological Society of America and as a recipient of the Leadership Award of the Association for Gerontology Education in Social Work (AGE-SW). Prior to being appointed as director of SWPI, Dr. Zlotnik served for nine years as the Executive Director of the Institute for the Advancement of Social Work Research (IASWR), working closely with the National Institutes of Health (NIH), other behavioral and social science disciplines and social work researchers. Under her leadership the growth in social work research was documented and training and technical assistance was offered to doctoral students, early career researchers and deans and directors on building social work research infrastructure and capacity. Previous to IASWR she served as Director of Special Projects at the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) and as a lobbyist and Staff Director of the Commission on Families for the National Association of Social Workers. Dr. Zlotnik is an internationally recognized expert on workforce issues for the social work profession, and is the author of numerous publications covering the lifespan including developing partnerships, enhancing social work's attention to aging, providing psychosocial services in long term care, and evidence-based practice. She holds a PhD in Social Work from the University of Maryland, an MSSW from the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and a BA from the University of Rochester. Dr. Zlotnik is an NASW Social Work Pioneer© was recognized by the National Institute of Health's (NIH) Social Work Research Working Group for her efforts on behalf of social work research at NIH, and is a recipient of the Association of Baccalaureate Social Work Program Director's (BPD) Presidential Medal of Honor.

INDIVIDUAL SUBJECT MATTER EXPERT MEMBERS (VOTING)

CHILD HEALTH

Richard C. Antonelli, MD, MS

Rich is the Medical Director of Integrated Care and of Physician Relations and Outreach for Boston Children's Hospital. He is on the faculty of Harvard Medical School in the Department of Pediatrics. Between 1987 and 2005, he was in full time, community-based general pediatrics, founding Nashaway Pediatrics in Sterling, MA. Since 1987, his clinical work has focused on providing comprehensive, family-centered care for all children, youth, and young adults, but especially for those with special health care needs. He is a member of the Project Advisory Committee of the National Center for Medical Home Implementation at the American Academy of Pediatrics. He has published data about the outcome efficacy and cost of care coordination services for children and youth with special health care needs and their families in primary care settings. Rich has also published work defining mechanisms for integration and coordination of care across systems including the development of strategies and interventions to improve collaborative efforts between families, primary care providers, and subspecialists. He has served on the Steering Committee for Care Coordination at the National Quality Forum and as an advisor to the Patient-Centered Medical Home measurement tool work group at the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA). In conjunction with researchers and policy representatives from internal medicine and family medicine, he represented the Academic Pediatrics Association in the national initiative Establishing a Policy Relevant Research Agenda for the Patient-Centered Medical Home: A Multi-Disciplinary Approach. He co-authored Making Care Coordination a Critical Component of the Pediatric Health System: A Multidisciplinary Framework, supported by The Commonwealth Fund. He has been appointed to the Measure Applications Partnership at the National Quality Forum since its inception. He has provided consultation on care coordination and integration methodologies and measures to multiple states, to US federal agencies, and to some international stakeholders. He is currently funded by the Lucile Packard Foundation for Children's Health to develop a family-reported measure of care integration. Since care coordination is so central to the effective transformation of the American health care system, Antonelli's work has been used for both adult and pediatric health care delivery systems. He has general pediatrics clinical responsibilities in the Primary Care Clinic setting at Boston Children's Hospital where he teaches residents, students, and fellows. He still is the primary care provider for several patients who have been with him since he first completed his residency!

CLINICIAN/GERIATRICS

Bruce Leff, MD

Dr. Leff is Professor of Medicine at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, and holds a Joint Appointment in the Department of Health Policy and Management at the Johns Hopkins University Bloomberg School of Public Health. He is the Director of the Program in Geriatric Health Services Research and the Co-Director of the Elder House Call Program, in the Division of Geriatric Medicine at the Johns Hopkins. His principal areas of research relate to home care and the development, evaluation, and dissemination of novel models of care for older adults, including the Hospital at Home model of care (www.hospitalathome.org), guided care (www.guidedcare.org), geriatric service line models (www.medic.org), and medical house call practices (www.iahnow.org). In addition, his research interests extend to issues related to the care of patients with multiple chronic conditions, guideline development, performance measurement, quality indicators, and case-mix issues. Dr. Leff cares for patients in the acute, ambulatory, and home settings. He practices in the home, ambulatory, hospital, nursing home, skilled nursing facility, rehabilitation, and PACE settings. He is the Associate Director of the Medicine Clerkship at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine and has received numerous awards for his teaching and mentorship. He is a member of the Board of Regents of the American College of Physicians, President of the American Academy of Home Care Physicians, and is a Fellow of InterRAI.

CLINICIAN/NURSING

Charlene Harrington, PhD, RN, FAAN

Charlene Harrington, Ph.D., RN, FAAN has been a professor at the University of California San Francisco since 1980 where she has specialized in long term care policy and research. She was elected to the IOM in 1996, and served on various IOM committees. In 2002, she and a team of researchers designed a model California long term care consumer information system website funded by the California Health Care Foundation and she continues to maintain and expand the site. Since 1994, she has been collecting and analyzing trend data on Medicaid home and community based service programs and policies, currently funded by the Kaiser Family Foundation. In 2003, she became the principal investigator of a five-year $4.5 million national Center for Personal Assistance Services funded by the National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research, which has just been refunded for (2008-2013). She has testified before the US Senate Special Committee on Aging, and has written more than 200 articles and chapters and co-edited five books while lecturing widely in the U.S.

MEASURE METHODOLOGIST

Debra Saliba, MD, MPH

Debra Saliba, MD, MPH, is the Anna & Harry Borun Chair in Geriatrics at the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA and is the director of the UCLA/JH Borun Center for Gerontological Research. She is also a geriatrician with the VA GRECC and a Senior Natural Scientist at RAND. Dr. Saliba's research has focused on creating tools and knowledge that can be applied to improving quality of care and quality of life for vulnerable older adults across the care continuum. Her research has addressed the hospitalization of vulnerable older adults, assessment of functional status and co-morbidity, patient safety, quality measurement, pressure ulcers, falls, pain, home accessibility, and the prediction of functional limitation and mortality. Dr. Saliba recently led the national revision of the Minimum Data Set for Nursing Homes (MDS 3.0) for the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and VA HSR&D. In this large multi-state project, Dr. Saliba led a national consortium of researchers and used both qualitative and quantitative methods to improve item reliability, validity and efficiency for this national program. Gains were also seen in facility staff satisfaction with the MDS assessment. Dr. Saliba's research in quality of care and vulnerable populations has received awards from the Journal of American Medical Directors Association, VA Health Services Research & Development, and the American Geriatrics Society. She is a member of the Board of Directors of the California Association of Long Term Care Medicine and of the American Geriatrics Society.

Current work includes the American Hospital Association Circle of Life Committee; consultant to the Center to Advance Palliative Care; and the Massachusetts Comprehensive Cancer Prevention and Control Program Advisory Board. She is past president and board member of the Hospice and Palliative Nurses Association and was a member of the National Quality Forum Hospital Efficiency Task Force. She has written, presented, and produced a variety of hospice and palliative nursing education topics, articles, materials, and book chapters. Ms. Dahlin is a Fellow of Hospice and Palliative Nursing and a Fellow of the American Academy of Nursing.

PATIENT EXPERIENCE

Jack Fowler, Jr., PhD

Jack Fowler is a Senior Scientific Advisor to the Informed Medical Decisions Foundation. The Foundation is a not for profit organization that develops information for patients facing medical decisions. It also supports research to learn how medical decisions are made, how best to support patients facing decisions and how to integrate decision support into routine clinical care. He is currently focusing on the Foundation's research agenda and on helping to disseminate the results of research it has funded. He served as President of the Foundation from 2002-2009. He has also been a Senior Research Fellow at the Center for Survey Research, UMass Boston since 1971, and he served as Director of the Center for 14 years. Jack is a social scientist whose special expertise is survey methodology. He is the author (or co-author) of four widely used books on survey research methods. A particular focus of his recent methodological research has been the design and procedures for evaluating survey questions. He also has been a major contributor to research on patient outcomes, how patients are affected by the treatments they receive, and how to measure the quality of medical decision making. He received his PhD from the University of Michigan in Social Psychology and a BA from Wesleyan University.

POST-ACUTE CARE/HOME HEALTH/HOSPICE

Carol Raphael, MPA

Carol Raphael served as the President and Chief Executive Officer of the Visiting Nurse Service of New York (VNSNY), the largest nonprofit home health care organization in the United States from 1989 to 2011. Ms. Raphael expanded the organization's services and launched innovative models of care for complex populations with chronic illness. Prior to joining VNSNY, Ms. Raphael held executive positions at Mt. Sinai Medical Center and in New York City government. Currently, Ms. Raphael is a Visiting Fellow at Harvard University. She chairs the New York eHealth Collaborative, a public-private partnership working to advance the adoption of health information technology. She is the Chair of the Long-Term Quality Alliance, Chair of the National Quality Forum MAP Workgroup on Post Acute and Long Term Care, a strategic adviser to NCQA and was a member of New York State Governor Cuomo's Medicaid Redesign Team. Ms. Raphael is a nationally recognized expert on health care policy and in particular, high-risk, complex populations with chronic illnesses and long term services and supports. She served on numerous commissions including the Medicare Payment Advisory Commission, the New York State Hospital Review and Planning Council and several Institute of Medicine committees. She has served on a number of boards including the Lifetime Blue Cross/Blue Shield Board and the American Foundation for the Blind. She is currently Vice-Chair of the AARP Board and serves on the boards of the Primary Care Development Corporation, Pace University, the Medicare Rights Center and the New York City Citizens Budget Commission. She is a member of several advisory boards including the Harvard School of Public Health's Health Policy Management Executive Council, the New York City Health and Mental Hygiene Advisory Council, The New York City Age-Friendly Commission and the New York University School of Nursing Advisory Board. SHARED DECISION MAKING

Karen Sepucha, PhD

Dr. Sepucha is the director of the Health Decision Sciences Center in the General Medicine Division at Massachusetts General Hospital and an assistant professor in Medicine at Harvard Medical School. Her research and clinical interests involve developing and implementing tools and methods to improve the quality of significant medical decisions made by patients and clinicians. Dr. Sepucha was the medical editor for a series of five breast cancer patient decision aids (PtDAs) developed by the not-for-profit Foundation for Informed Medical Decision Making. The PtDAs have won seven media awards and Dr. Sepucha has led the dissemination of these programs to more than 80 academic and community cancer centers across the country. She is also responsible for efforts to integrate decision support tools into primary and specialty care at MGH. Her recent research has focused on the development of instruments to measure the quality of decisions. The decision quality instruments have been used in a national survey of medical decisions, and a subset of the items is being evaluated for use in CAHPS as part of the primary care medical home certification. Dr. Sepucha has been active in local, national and international efforts to improve decision quality, including the International Patient Decision Aids Standards collaboration. She got her Ph.D. in Engineering-Economic Systems and Operations Research at Stanford University with a focus in decision sciences.

SURGICAL CARE

Eric B. Whitacre, MD, FACS

Eric B Whitacre, MD, FACS is Director of the Breast Center of Southern Arizona. He is a board certified breast surgeon with hospital appointments at Tucson Surgery Center, Tucson Medical Center, and Carondelet St. Joseph. He is past president of the American Society of Breast Surgeons, and a member of the Coding in Reimbursement Committee of the American College of Surgeons. TEAM-BASED CARE

Ronald Stock, MD, MA

Ronald Stock is a geriatrician, clinical health services researcher, and Associate Professor of Family Medicine at Oregon Health & Sciences University. He is currently The Foundation for Medical Excellence John Kitzhaber Fellow in Health Policy with an emphasis on understanding the impact of medical home and coordinated care organization healthcare delivery transformation on physicians and medical practices in Oregon. A graduate of the University of Nebraska College Of Medicine, Dr. Stock completed his residency and faculty development fellowship in Family Medicine at the Medical University of South Carolina and University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill and has a Certificate of Added Qualifications in Geriatric Medicine. Before joining OHSU in 2012 he served as Executive Medical Director of Geriatrics and Care Coordination services, and Medical Director of Education & Research at PeaceHealth Oregon Region. With funding from the John A Hartford Foundation, RWJ Foundation, AHRQ, and PeaceHealth/Sacred Heart Medical Center he has dedicated his professional career to improving the quality of healthcare for older adults, with a focus on redesigning the primary care delivery system in a community for vulnerable and frail elders through an interdisciplinary team model, and assessing methods to develop and measure team-based care in the clinical setting. He is currently a member of an AHRQ Technical Expert Panel on “Developing a Foundation & Framework for Team-Based Care Measures in Primary Care”, member of the Institute of Medicine Best Practices Innovation Collaborative on Team-Based Care, and an IOM Task Force exploring the role of “Patients on Teams”.

AGENCY FOR HEALTHCARE RESEARCH AND QUALITY (AHRQ)

D.E.B. Potter, MS

D.E.B. Potter is a Senior Survey Statistician, in the Center for Financing, Access and Cost Trends (CFACT), Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). Her work focuses on improving the measurement of vulnerable populations including the disabled, frail elders, persons needing long-term services and supports, and behavioral health care. Efforts include quality measures development; data collection and instrument design; measuring health care use, financing and quality; and estimation issues involving persons that use institutional, sub-acute and home and community-based services (HCBS). Ms. Potter represents the AHRQ on the National Quality Forum convened Measures Application Partnership - on both the Dual Eligibles Workgroup and the Post-Acute/Long-Term Care Workgroup; she Co-Chairs the Quality Measures Workgroup for the HHS Secretary's Community Living Initiative, is a member of the HHS Measures Coordination Group, the AHRQ Measures Policy Council, and serves on numerous Technical Expert Panels including TEP's for CMS's HCBS Experience with Care Survey and the National Advisory Panels for AARP's State Scorecard for Long-Term Services and Supports, and the National Long Term Quality Alliance (LTQA). In 2002, she (with others) received HHS Secretary's Award "for developing and implementing a strategy to provide information the Department needs to improve long-term care." Currently, at AHRQ, she serves as Co-Lead, AHRQ's LTC Program, and is responsible for AHRQ's Assisted Living Initiative and the Medicaid HCBS quality measures project. She is also on part-time detail to the HHS Office of the Secretary, Division of Disability, Aging and Long-Term Policy, where she leads efforts to develop quality measures for HCBS, dementia and behavioral health populations. Recent publications include Assessing the Health and Welfare of the HCBS Population: Findings Report, 2012, Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality.

CENTERS FOR MEDICARE & MEDICAID SERVICES (CMS)

Chisara N. Asomugha, MD, MSPH, FAAP

Dr. Asomugha is the former Community Services Administrator for the City of New Haven, CT. She is now serving as the Senior Technical Adviser/Medical Officer at the Centers for Medicaid & Medicare Services' (CMS) Center for Clinical Standards & Quality. ACCREDITATION/CERTIFICATION LIAISONS (NON-VOTING)

NATIONAL COMMITTEE FOR QUALITY ASSURANCE

Sarah Scholle, DrPH, MPH

Sarah Hudson Scholle (DrPH The Johns Hopkins University) is Vice President, Research and Analysis, at the National Committee for Quality Assurance. Dr. Scholle is an expert in health service and quality measurement in multiple settings and has a demonstrated record of moving innovative measurement concepts into implementation. Current measurement projects focus on cross-cutting areas including care coordination, patient engagement, and goal setting and improvement in outcomes. Her experience also includes project to test and assess the process of transformation to different models of care, including an initiative to test a patient-centered approach to oncology care. She leads NCQA efforts work to expand measures for vulnerable populations; this included the development of a framework for evaluating care for people with dual eligibility for Medicaid and Medicaid and ongoing work to build quality measures aligned with this framework, as well as efforts to expand measures for evaluating the quality of behavioral health care. She is currently principal investigator of an AHRQ/CMS funded Center of Excellence in Pediatric Quality Measurement, where the priorities are focused on prevention, behavioral health and foster care. She has led activities in measurement related to patient-centered care and the patient-centered medical home (PCMH) and contributed to the development and implementation of surveys (such as the PCMH version of the CAHPS survey).

THE JOINT COMMISSION

Sharon Sprenger, MPA, RHIA, CPHQ

Sharon Sprenger is the Project Director, Group on Performance Measurement in the Division of Research at The Joint Commission. In this position, she is responsible for performance measure identification, evaluation, pilot testing and implementation activities for core measures, disease specific care certification and international initiatives as applicable to all Joint Commission accreditation programs/settings.
